LEGAL ENTITY INDEPENDENCE & ORGANIZATIONAL DISCLOSURE

Effective: November 9, 2026 | Revised to clarify individual identity and representation

1. Purpose and Scope

This Legal Entity Independence & Organizational Disclosure (the "Disclosure") explains the separate legal identities and respective roles of NDVerse, Gabrie'le Eato LLC, and Eleable LLC (each an "Entity," and collectively, the "Entities"). It is intended to help website visitors, donors, participants, clients, collaborators, and other third parties identify the organization with which they are interacting. This Disclosure may be made available through the websites or communications of any of the Entities.

2. Three Distinct Legal Entities

NDVerse is an Ohio nonprofit organization recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a tax-exempt public charity under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. It carries out charitable activities focused on neurodiversity, mental health awareness, suicide prevention, education, inclusion, advocacy, and community support. NDVerse is governed by its own nonprofit governing documents and board of directors. Gabrie'le Eato LLC is a separate for-profit limited liability company associated with media, speaking, consulting, educational, creative, and other professional engagements undertaken through that company. Eleable LLC is a separate for-profit limited liability company associated with talent and influencer management, brand partnerships, public relations, digital design psychology, digital design, website development, accessibility-related reviews, branding, marketing, and related services undertaken through that company. The description of an Entity's activities is informational and does not represent that every described service is available at all times or that a service is offered without a separate agreement or other applicable conditions.

3. Shared Founder Does Not Merge Legal Identity

The Entities have a common founder, Gabrie'le Eato, and may identify a relationship or collaborate on appropriately authorized activities. Shared leadership, a founder, websites, branding references, service providers, or collaborative projects do not, standing alone, merge these Entities into a single legal organization. NDVerse, as a nonprofit, is not owned by its founder or either for-profit company. The individual identity and authorized personal representation of Gabrie'le Eato are addressed separately below.

4. Individual Identity, Personal Brand, and Talent Representation

Gabrie'le Eato is a natural person whose personal identity, name, likeness, personal brand, creative activities, and independently held rights are distinct from Gabrie'le Eato LLC, Eleable LLC, and NDVerse. The existence of Gabrie'le Eato LLC does not mean that every appearance, creative work, sponsorship, statement, contract, or personal activity of Gabrie'le Eato is undertaken through that company. The actual contracting party and capacity in which she acts must be determined from the relevant circumstances and governing documents.

Eleable LLC may provide authorized talent management, creative representation, publicity, brand partnership coordination, and related commercial services for Gabrie'le Eato in her individual capacity. That representation does not, by itself, establish representation of Gabrie'le Eato LLC, NDVerse, or any other entity, and does not transfer ownership of her name, likeness, creative works, intellectual property, or publicity rights to Eleable LLC absent an applicable lawful agreement.

An agreement made by Gabrie'le Eato personally is not automatically an agreement of Gabrie'le Eato LLC, Eleable LLC, or NDVerse. Likewise, an agreement made by an Entity does not automatically make Gabrie'le Eato personally a contracting party. These distinctions do not remove personal obligations, liability, or other legal consequences that may arise by contract, personal conduct, guaranty, statute, or other applicable law. Agency authority and responsibility depend on actual authorization, conduct, applicable agreements, and governing law.

5. Separate Contractual and Financial Obligations

A contract, invoice, payment, charitable contribution, purchase, project, service, application, or other transaction involving one Entity is not automatically a transaction involving either of the other Entities. Unless expressly stated in a valid written agreement or required by law, one Entity does not assume, guarantee, or become responsible for another Entity's debts, refunds, fees, promises, duties, or liabilities. Parties should review the identity of the contracting or receiving Entity on each applicable agreement, receipt, form, or payment page.

6. NDVerse Donations and Charitable Funds

Donations expressly made to NDVerse are contributions to NDVerse and are subject to applicable charitable, tax, donor-restriction, and nonprofit governance requirements. A payment made to either for-profit company is not a charitable contribution to NDVerse merely because the businesses share a founder or support a common cause. Tax deductibility depends on the recipient, nature of the transaction, applicable law, and any required documentation. NDVerse charitable resources must be used for appropriate nonprofit purposes and may not be treated as the personal or unrestricted business assets of the founder or the for-profit Entities.

7. Related-Party Services and Conflicts of Interest

Any arrangement in which NDVerse purchases services, licenses intellectual property, shares expenses, or enters another transaction with Gabrie'le Eato LLC, Eleable LLC, or a related person must be evaluated and documented in accordance with applicable law, NDVerse's governing documents, and its conflict-of-interest and approval procedures. Interested individuals should disclose relevant interests and refrain from participating in decisions where recusal is required. This Disclosure does not itself authorize any related-party transaction.

8. No Automatic Agency, Endorsement, or Representation

No Entity, director, officer, employee, representative, volunteer, contractor, ambassador, or affiliated individual may bind or speak on behalf of another Entity solely by reason of a common founder or association. Authorization to act for one Entity does not confer authority to act for the others. Reference to another Entity's name or website does not, by itself, constitute sponsorship, endorsement, partnership, representation, or an employment relationship. This provision does not prevent Eleable LLC from representing Gabrie'le Eato individually where duly authorized; it does not confer authority over Gabrie'le Eato LLC or NDVerse.

9. Separate Programs, Professional Boundaries, and Public Communications

NDVerse's charitable and educational activities are distinct from the commercial services of Gabrie'le Eato LLC and Eleable LLC. Information about mental health, disability, neurodiversity, or available resources does not, by itself, establish a professional clinical relationship or guarantee individualized treatment, diagnosis, or emergency intervention. Any assessment-related, clinical, consulting, design, or other professional service is governed by the identity and lawful scope of the provider actually offering it and by applicable written terms.

10. Websites, Privacy, and Third Parties

Each Entity is responsible for its own website activities, notices, and applicable privacy practices. Visitors should consult the privacy policy, terms of use, and other notices applicable to the Entity operating the specific website or service. A link between sites does not combine their information practices or automatically authorize disclosure of personal information across Entities. Information may be shared only when permitted by applicable law and governing notices, agreements, authorizations, or other valid legal bases. Gabrie'le Eato's personal website and the services supplied by any separate managing agency should identify the responsible parties in the applicable notices and arrangements; personal branding and agency management do not, standing alone, merge their legal identities.

11. Names, Logos, Intellectual Property, and Branding

Each Entity's names, logos, seals, content, and other protected materials may be subject to the rights of that Entity or their respective owners and licensors. No person may represent that a certification, organizational seal, endorsement, license, or authorization issued or displayed by one Entity applies to another without valid authorization. This Disclosure does not grant any license to use an Entity's intellectual property. Gabrie'le Eato's individual name, likeness, and independently held creative or publicity rights are not automatically assets of any Entity merely because the Entity is associated with her or provides authorized services.

12. No Waiver of Applicable Rights or Legal Responsibilities

This Disclosure is explanatory and does not create an exemption from applicable law, substitute for required corporate formalities, alter existing contracts, defeat legitimate claims, or conclusively determine liability. Courts and regulators may evaluate the actual conduct and legal relationships of the Entities. Nothing here waives rights, remedies, duties, fiduciary responsibilities, or statutory protections that cannot lawfully be waived.

13. Conflicts With Specific Agreements

Where a separate signed agreement, donor restriction, governing document, employment arrangement, or mandatory legal requirement addresses a matter more specifically, that document or requirement governs to the extent applicable. This Disclosure does not amend a contract unless the parties validly agree to an amendment.

14. Updates

This Disclosure may be updated to reflect material changes to organizational relationships, activities, or applicable legal requirements. The current version may be published on the applicable websites of the Entities. Any changes operate subject to applicable law and do not retroactively extinguish rights or obligations.

15. Legal Inquiries and Formal Service of Process

Legal inquiries concerning an Entity should be directed to that Entity's designated contact: NDVerse — legal@ndverse.org; Eleable LLC — legal@eleable.com; and Gabrie'le Eato LLC — gabby@gabbyeato.com. Each contact address applies solely to the identified Entity and does not authorize another Entity to receive legal notices or assume legal obligations on its behalf. The designation of these email addresses does not constitute consent to electronic service of process or waive statutory, procedural, or jurisdictional requirements for formal notices. Formal service of legal process and notices requiring a legally prescribed delivery method must comply with applicable law. Matters concerning Gabrie'le Eato individually should be addressed to her or to a representative authorized for the particular matter; an Entity contact address is not automatically authorized to accept formal service for her personally.